$90,000 FOR POSTOFFICE IS ALLOTTED

Murray Building Placed in Second Deficiency Bill by Secretary Mellon

FIVE OTHER TOWNS IN STATE ARE INCLUDED

Some Believe This Step to Mean City Will Get Federal House This Year

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington Monday announced that Murray, together with five other Kentucky cities, was included in a bill for $90,000 for public buildings reported to Congress by Secretary Mellon. The appropriations for these buildings will be carried in a second deficiency bill to be drafted.

Murray was allotted $90,000, compared to $70,000 for Elizabethtown and Paducah, $65,000 for Louisville, $60,000 for Lexington and $50,000 for Louisville. This is an increase over the original estimate of $60,000. Murray citizens had petitioned for $100,000, the same as Louisville.

Just what this means is not entirely clear but a number of citizens take it to indicate that construction of the Murray postoffice may be gotten under way this year. At the least, it is regarded as another definite step toward the realization of Murray's long-cherished ambition for an adequate Federal building.

Crawford-Gatlin To Bank on Newspapers

After several months of preliminary surveys and careful study of various advertising media, the Crawford-Gatlin system of department stores has decided to invest the bulk of its advertising appropriation in newspaper space, according to a recent statement by C. L. Andrews, advertising manager for the firm.

"We have discovered, after giving our publicity problems a great deal of thought, that the newspaper better returns per advertising dollar than any other medium," Mr. Andrews further declares. "Each of our stores is budgeting for a more extensive advertising program than ever before in its history. Of course, this means a larger budget for direct mail and outdoor display will receive their share of attention, as I certainly think that there is a place for each of these."

As announced in an advertisement today, appearing in this paper, the local Crawford-Gatlin store is the first of a series of "All-Star Specials," a special selling event that will be offered the public every month of the year. The following is a list of the special features of the first of these special selling events:

The window especially is very striking. The background shows a glittering star flashing across the window leaving a trail of light and yellow behind it. On this "trailer" is depicted the words "All-Star Specials."

Manager W. V. Hale assures us that when the "All-Star Specials" appears in his windows, the buying public can be assured of some very special merchandise features.

Paris Residents Badly Injured Near Tri-City

Joe Hagen, Woodrow Simmons and Miss Inez Rogers of Paris, Tenn., received serious injuries Sunday when they were riding in a motor car which overturned in an embankment at Tri-City at 1:30 a. m.

Joe Hagen suffered a broken leg and severe cuts in the head. Woodrow Simmons received a broken arm and a broken leg. Miss Inez Rogers suffered from internal injuries, deep cuts in the nose and scalp. Miss Thompson was returned home in Brownsville Sunday.

The occupants had started from Murray to Paris and had reached the intersection where the road crosses into the Paris and Mayfield highway when the wreck occurred. Being unimpaired with the place where the road intersects, was the apparent cause of the accident. The new Graham-Paige car was completely demolished.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS

As you have noted, correspondence is usually heavier at this time of the year than any other. There is so much that space for all is not available or the material on hand is greater than the type machines can digest.

We make this explanation so that no correspondent will feel that he or she is being subjected to discrimination. We make every effort to get them all in but sometimes it is simply beyond our power.

Correspondents should endeavor to be as concise as possible at all times. We note that most of you have discontinued visitations in the neighborhood, but a few still persist in including these items.

We regard correspondence as one of the most valuable features of our paper and welcome each of you cordially. And we want your cooperation in making the correspondence as interesting and completely representative as possible.

Remember, please, be concise, omit unessential, but don't overlook the important news, and GET IT IN EARLY!

World Almanac Lists Stubblefield Among 51 Greatest Inventors in It's 1930 Edition

By L. J. Horton

Among the 51 great American inventors the 1931 World Almanac lists Book of Facts lists "Stubblefield" as one of the 51 greatest inventors in the world.

Stubblefield, with Stubblefield 57 other great inventors including Edison, Franklin, Fitch, Westinghouse, Bell, Griggs and Wright, are listed by this authoritative publication from New York City on page 779 where a separate paragraph is printed on Murray's genius.

Murray's genius, Stubblefield College will have a display of Stubblefield's inventions, Friday morning, March 27.

The World Almanac declares: "A monument to Stubblefield's genius, Stubblefield with having been a separate paragraph in the book, was dedicated on March 23, 1930, on the campus of the State Teachers College at Murray, Ky. Stubblefield died in 1928 near Murray. He made his first public demonstration in 1903, after ten years of experiments."

On March 23, 1928, the inventor of radio died. He was buried in the cemetery at Murray. He is listed with the immortal.

Without intervening wires, for ten years he practiced sending messages with his crude contrivance of batteries, wires, and relays. Many of his fellow townsmen in Murray testify to the fact that he could successfully talk to them by means of "queer" contrivances of which he would not divulge.

On the Potomac River in 1902 Stubblefield demonstrated before scientists, newspaper men, and curious onlookers that he could broadcast from the steamer "Bartholomew" to the river bank. "The" Corporation of America, organized in New York, but the financial backers of the company were not interested in developing the radio. They merely wanted to sell stock.

After a quantity of shares had been sold, the promoters, according to his friends, abandoned the patent, the invention, and left for Europe, leaving Stubblefield the prey of disappointed stockholders.

COUNTY CROP LOAN COMMITTEE NAMED

Maximum Is $500 for Those Unable To Procure Funds Any Other Way

Ed Fibeck, T. H. Stokes and Charles Clark have been appointed committees for this county to pass on applications for crop loans.

These loans will be made from the $45,000,000 appropriation recently passed by Congress for the relief of drought stricken farmers. No loans in excess of $500 will be made and they are available only to persons who can obtain loans in no other way.

The money lent will be for the purpose of buying seed for crops and gasoline for tractors, food for work stock, and fertilizer, and for the purchase of other necessities. The county committee will be organized in New York, but the financial backers of the company were not interested in developing the radio. They merely wanted to sell stock.

After a quantity of shares had been sold, the promoters, according to his friends, abandoned the patent, the invention, and left for Europe, leaving Stubblefield the prey of disappointed stockholders.

Lynn Grove Hi Notes

Mr. Burton Jeffrey, teacher of mathematics and science, and basketball coach of Lynn Grove for the past four years, was recently granted a leave of absence to complete his bachelor's work at Murray State College. Mr. Pat Blalock, a graduate of Murray State College and a son of Dr. and Mrs. Blalock of New Concord, was appointed to fill the vacancy during Mr. Jeffrey's absence.

Honesty, truthfulness and determination were three of the fundamentals emphasized by County Superintendent, M. Q. Wraether, in chapel at Lynn Grove Monday afternoon, January 27.

"Honesty is a characteristic that can be developed or discouraged," the speaker explained. "It is better to be a student with C's rightly obtained than one with A's gained by dishonest means."

His efforts throughout the time means more than grades.

In the analysis of why students do not study, the superintendent said, "laziness and lack of determination are his drawbacks."

"The biggest things you can carry away from school are your attitudes," what you have determined to do; whether you will travel the road to success or just be an average man," concluded Mr. Wraether.

Although the sick list is gradually decreasing, a number of students are still ill. Sammy Kelley, who has been absent for the past six weeks, returned Monday. Miss Modest Clark, history instructor, came back Tuesday after about two weeks attack of tonsillitis. Miss Ruth Lawrence was absent two days this week. Anna Mary Rudd who has been sick with scarlet fever, is improving rapidly and expects to enter school in a few weeks. Franklin Harris and Paul Galloway still remain ill.

The Lynn Grove band, under direction of the County Band Instructor, S. W. Floyd, is now composed of thirty-one members. The band was organized last May with sixteen members, with Ardeth Cannon as director.

Twelve others have bought instruments since that time and have been receiving individual instruction. The group of thirty-one had the first practice together the past week.

The members of the band and the instruments they play are as follows: Clarinet, Robbie Nell Myers, James Westley Wilson, Rebecca Armstrong, Dorris West, Anna Mary Rudd, Mrs. T. C. Arnett, Miss Sallie Howard.

Cornets: Myrtle Jones, Robert Singleton, Howard Paschall, Ruben Ford, Isaac Ford, Edwin Warren, Nancy Ruth Hutchens, Mr. Burton Jeffrey.

Alto: Halton West, Orelia Ford; Millophones, Emma Lee Camp, Mrs. Goldie Dunn; Trombones, Gela Furchess, Theora Blacklock, Robbie Lee Jones, Charlie Arnett, Estelle West; Saxophone, Miss Modest Clark; Drums, Rudolph Howard, Jack McReynolds; Cymbals, Milton Parks; Bass, Vernon Jackson; Baritone, Hafford Myers.

The negative debating team of Lynn Grove was defeated by the team from Murray High School Wednesday afternoon, January 22. The judges, selected from the Murray State College debaters. This was Lynn Grove's third defeat on the negative side and the first with judges.

Dorris West's name was omitted through an oversight, from the list of students receiving honorable mention for the first semester work with A's and B's with one C.

The county agent and an agricultural engineer from the College of Agriculture assisted in laying out a drainage system on the farm of L. P. Tudor in Madison county.

Society

The T. S. M. C. with Miss Gabe and mother, of 3rd grade acting as hosts for the afternoon will meet Friday at 2:30.

"Teaching Music Appreciation in the Primary Grades" and "The Part a Mother plays in the Child's Appreciation of Music" are subjects for discussion on the program.

Misses Lillian Watters and Gwendolyn Haynes, teachers from the Music Department of the Training School will appear on the program.

Mrs. R. M. Mason, chairman of the club, urges a full attendance of members.

The meeting in March will be given over to the Calloway Auxiliary of the Medical Society with Mrs. E. B. Houston, state president, presiding over the program which will be given on Kentucky Lays regarding Health in Public Schools.

The program will be given by members of the auxiliary and is of special interest to mothers coming at this time when examinations are being given for Blue Ribbon awards.

Mr. Stanley Holston Weds. Dallas, Texas, Girl

Relatives and friends have received beautiful announcements of the marriage of Mr. Stanley Holston, formerly of Murray, to Miss Estelle Blankenbaker on Saturday, January 31.

The wedding was solemnized by the Rev. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, - Durant, Oklahoma.

The man who looks you in the face every morning when you shave—are you being just to him?

If his house should burn, would his possessions be only 49 per cent insured? Confessions show this meagre protection is not the exception, but the rule.

What if his automobile should strike a pedestrian? Has he good high limits of Public Liability Insurance?

If an accident stopped his earning capacity, would his Accident Insurance pay him a comfortable income?

These are only a few questions to ask him when you are shaving tomorrow morning. We know he's a deserving fellow. We hope you are treating him properly.

Heath News

Our school closed Friday morning, Jan. 23, 1931, from a seven month term. All were very sorry to leave our dear old school and teachers for we all had such jolly times, often in the afternoon we spelled for fun. But for one real sport we had a spelling contest, the ones who won the certificates were Miss Robbie Darnall for the fourth grade, Miss Anna Staples, fifth grade; Mr. Novis Copeland, sixth grade; Mr. Edward Irwin, seventh grade; Mr. Paul Darnall, eighth; and the best in the school was Mr. Edward Irwin.

Friday morning we had a program. A part of the program follows:

Songs—By school
Dull Class, play—Higher grades
Songs—Lower grades

"When the spirits come visiting," play—Higher grades
Songs—By First grade boys
Class—History—Miss Evelyn Pace

Class Journal—Clara Mae Tidwell
Class Prophecy—Miss Gracie Alexander
Reading—Novis Copeland

At the end of the program each child got his or her treat and then candy was served to the visitors—Miss Evelyn Pace, Miss Clara Mae Tidwell, Miss Autumn Russell, Miss Gracie Alexander, Miss Clara Threalt and Miss Russell received presents for being to school every day and also Edward Irwin for being the best speller. We are all very glad to know that if nothing happens, Mr. Guy Billington and Miss Susie Hutchens will be our teachers next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Palmer's small son is just recovering after a spell of pneumonia.

Bro. Smith who has been holding a Sunday School program at Owens Chapel held a meeting there Sunday, Jan. 25. Rev. McCloud will hold a meeting there on his regular appointment, every third Sunday and there will be Sunday School there every Sunday.

ELM GROVE NEWS

Most everybody is through selling their high-grade tobacco, and burning plant beds and plowing for a more prosperous year to come in the future than we had in the past year. Some people of this section are plowing and planting potatoes and setting out cabbage.

The seven months school at Elm Grove was out Friday, Jan. 23. Every student went home and over the departure of their teacher they loved so well—Mrs. Watson. We are hoping she may be with us next year. The teacher and 23 pupils went on a hike to

"If I were announcing the scores in a basketball game, instead of the decision of a defeat, I would declare that Kirksey won by a score of 31 to 30," declared C. B. Pennabaker of the Murray State College critic judge of the Lynn Grove-Kirksey debate Wednesday evening, January 28, in the Lynn Grove auditorium.

This was the first debate of the affirmative team with a judge. The negative team was defeated the previous week by Murray High School.

Lynn Grove debates for this week included a double header with Concord Wednesday, February 4. Lynn Grove's affirmative team, composed of Homer Miller, Doris West, and Hoyt Jones met the negative team of Concord in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and the negative team of Lynn Grove composed of Charlie Arnett, Patsy Jones, and Harold Douglas clashed with Concord's affirmative representatives in the evening at 7:30.

Following the basketball game with the Wildcats and Faxon Cardinals, the negative team representing Lynn Grove will meet Faxon's affirmative group. Each of the three debates will be held at Lynn Grove.

Murray Woman's Cousin, of Paducah, is Dead

John J. Foster, for 15 years manager of the E. Guthrie Co., Paducah, who died Monday, January 26, in Battle Creek, Mich., was a first cousin to Mrs. W. L. Whitnell, of Murray.

Mr. Foster had been in failing health for some time and died following an attack of appendicitis and complications. He was a native of Virginia and was buried there Wednesday, January 28. Though of a retiring manner, Mr. Foster had many acquaintances in Murray. He was a member of the Broadway Methodist church and the Kniskat Templars, Paducah.
